More Strange, Unusual, and Impossible things are happening in The Knight's Armor, the third and final volume in Paul Gamble's hilarious Ministry of SUITs middle-grade series... MEMO: For Ministry of SUITs operatives ONLY Be on the alert! A missing agent (the mother of one of our newest recruits) is possibly being kept prisoner somewhere in Belfast. We have unconfirmed reports of:

- allergies transforming normal kids into monsters - health food that works a bit too well - abnormal gatherings of suspicious birds - and movie props moving on their own. If you have any information about these or any other strange incidents, please contact recruits Jack Pearse, a curious boy skilled in logical thinking, and Trudy Emerson, the most dangerous girl in school. We are confident that they are on the right track, as our newest villain has already tried to kill Jack several times. And please hurry . . . this plot does involve Trudy's mother, and if we take too long she might punch us. Again.

REVIEW OF BZRK APOCALYPSE

- Key Features: this book brings together a complete listing of the major skills and techniques for coaches, and how to employ them. The Coaching at Work Toolkit provides assessment instruments, process forms and examines the management practices of coaching. The book also details the changing nature and evolution of coaching, such as the increasing importance of specialisation. To date, most available coaching books detail the standard practice of goal setting and actioning and some coach interventions but they do not offer too many actual techniques that facilitate the desired change. These invaluable techniques are outlined and discussed, and then presented alongside case studies and exercises. The toolkit is a professional, yet easy-to-understand reference book and includes a complete glossary. Both authors have extensive global coaching experience.
