Orion is the king of the forest, the lord of Athel Loren and the guardian spirit of all that is dear to the Asrai, the mysterious Wood Elves. In three novels, he confronts old enemies and new dangers, and must appeal to all his powers and allies to ensure the safety of his ancient forest, and his own. Every year, after winter, King Orion wakes up and reigns over the forest kingdom of Athel Loren. This time though, as he slowly comes out of his torpor, he realizes that a terrible evil has taken hold of him, and that his eternal mind has been cursed. Taken of an uncontrollable rage, he leads his Asrai to the war in order to discover who is there the origin of this plot. But as corruption spreads and his powers diminish, he will have to put his fate in the hands of his most loyal subjects, and entrust them with the mission of unmasking the traitors hiding among their ranks.

Gotrek & Felix: The First Omnibus Black Library

A fantastic collection of classic stories about the righteous armies of the Empire set in the Warhammer Fantasy universe. The Empire is besieged. Countless enemies batter the border of Sigmar's mighty nation, seeking to tear down its cities and murder its inhabitants. Standing against them are an array of brave men and women, united in their defiance and led by true heroes. In the wilderness of Averland, Kurt Helborg, Marshal of the Reiksguard, holds the province together in his iron grip. On the frontiers, Ludwig Schwarzhelm, Emperor's Champion, must halt the unstoppable onslaught of the Greenskins, while in the Drakwald Forest, Luthor Huss, warrior priest of Sigmar, fights a tide of undead that threatens to sweep away all before it. But, more insidious enemies lurk within the shadows. Witch hunters and spies are the only remedy to such poisons, and none are more accomplished than Lukas Eichmann and Pieter Verstohlen, whose individual quests find them on the trail of ruthless murders and labyrinthine conspiracies that threaten to tear the nation asunder. Will these heroes triumph, or will the myriad evils of the Old World bring ruin to the hope of humanity? This omnibus contains the novels Sword of Justice, Sword of Vengeance and Luthor Huss and the short stories 'Feast of Horrors', 'Duty and Honour' and 'The March of Doom', by Chris Wraight.

Karak Azgal is a background book that is a must for roleplaying offiiciandos. Karak Azgal was once a rich Dwarf hold, but it fell to the forces of chaos. A dragon moved in, and dug out much of the treasure hidden in the dungeon to form a horde. This dragon was slain, over a thousand years ago by a Dwarf named Skalf. He claimed the treasure, and ownership of Karak Azgal. He realised the hold was too infested to clear out, so he built an enclave above the Hold and set up court there. A city has now grown up, rich from the treasures brought up by adventurers. The dwarfs encourage folk to go down there and recover their ancestors goods (and tax the hell out of them for doing so) but aren't too fussed about clearing it themselves- Dwarfs take the long view that one day the Goblins that live down there will go extinct, and when they do, all the gold down there will come back into Dwarf hands. They are, in fact being very generous in allowing folk to go down there and bring it back up- why, they might even get to keep 10% of it! That's practically giving it away! The city setting of Karak Azgal is perfect for Dwarf gags, intrigue and numerous excuses to be sent into the dungeon. It should be richly populated with interesting characters, and should logically extrapolate what happens to a city that has grown up on a treasure horde- for example, " everything's very expensive- if you don't haven any money, you can always take an advance on what you're about to earn! just sign here (think record company) " No one bothers to learn your name until you've been down and back out a couple of times. " Dungeoneering teams are commissioned to map areas. " There are 'recovery outfits' that specialise in finding ancestral treasure. " People bet on the dungeoneering teams. " You can pay for your funeral in advance should you not make it out " Tavern/first aid outposts have grown up over the air shafts that lead deep into the hold- complete with winches, tax specialists, and healers, bookies, recruiting sergeants, touting guides and roaring drunk dwarfs. " Dwarfs tracking down and sealing any 'secret' non-dwarf controlled entrances to Karak Azgal Warhammer Fantasy Roleplay (WFRP or WHFRP) is a roleplaying system created by Games Workshop. It is set in the Old World, which bears some resemblance to late medieval / renaissance Europe. The world is threatened by the forces of Chaos. The major power in the Old World is the Empire, in which most of the adventures are located. The Empire itself is a country full of intrigue, conspiracies, and dark plots. BL Publishing is the publishing wing of the world famous Games Workshop group of companies. As well as its new Black Industries imprint, the division is also home to the Black Library, which has been producing best-selling and award-winning novels, comics and artbooks set in the worlds of Warhammer since 1997. It also includes the Black Flame fiction imprint for non-Warhammer titles, and Warhammer Historical Wargames. The fate of The Old World hangs in the balance. Heroes rise and fall as they battle the Ruinous Powers in a last desperate attempt to save the mortal realm. The Gods of Chaos only want total destruction and their victory seems inevitable..... Includes the first two novels in the End Times series: The Return of Nagash and The Fall of Altdorf. The Return of Nagash As the forces of Chaos threaten to drown the world in madness, Manfred von Carstein and Arkhan the Black put aside their difference and plot to resurrect the one being with the power to stand against the servants of the Ruinous Powers and restore order to the world - the Great Necromancer himself. As they set about gathering artefacts to use in their dark ritual, armies converge on Sylvania, intent on stopping them. But Arkhan and Manfred are determined to complete their task. No matter the cost, Nagash must rise again. The Fall of Altdorf With the hordes of Chaos marshalling in the north, Emperor Karl Franz leads his armies in defence of his realm. But when the worst happens and the Emperor is lost, it falls to Reiksmarshal Kurt Helborg to return to Altdorf, capital of the Empire, and prepare to meet the forces of the Ruinous Powers in a final battle for that ancient city. As plague spreads and the defences weaken, all seems lost, until help arrives from a most unexpected source... if Helborg can bring himself to accept it.

God of Battles is a tabletop fantasy battle game in which players command armies of model soldiers to fight against each other across Aren's troubled lands. I've tried to produce a game that is easy to learn and quick and fun to play, but which offers many tactical options and rewards players' skill. If you are new to all this, I've included some hints and tips throughout the book to help get you started. Have a look at the Scenario section as there's a piece in there about playing your first game, which should point you in the right direction. If you have played tabletop battle games before, you will find some new ideas and a few unusual concepts in this one. They are no more complicated than in other games, less so in fact, they're just different. Have a game or two with only the Main Force part of your armies to get the hang of it and see what you think. It's hard to judge any game from a quick skim through the rules. Let it come alive on the tabletop! Above all, with God of Battles I designed the type of tabletop battle rules that I always wanted to play, where a group of friends could have a fun and characterful game that tells a good story. I hope you get as many hours of enjoyment from it as I have!

REVIEW OF WARHAMMER FANTASY 8TH EDITION RULEBOOK

- 1984, there isn't anything too exciting about that title. Why would you buy a book called 1984? I'll tell you why. Because 1984 is a very unique and interesting book. It has a very different idea of how the author (George Orwell) thought the year 1984 was going to be like. Though we know how 1984 really was, it is still very interesting. This book follows a man named Winston and the horrible conditions he and the world are living in. Could the world turn into something this horrible? Telescreens everywhere, watching everything you do? Thought Police out to get you? It sure makes you wonder. It's almost... scary.

- 1. Looking at so many things in nature one tends to find a Gaussian distribution curve. The majority of people stand in the center and a much smaller number are the outliers. There is nothing good or bad about either form of existence! It's just the way it is. The point is that the outliers usually have an intrinsic urge to be bidirectional thinkers whereas the middle is usually unidirectional for a large number of issues. However one must remember that such generalizations are okay for a bird's eye view and for crude statistics only but may not do justice to any given individual! The key question is regarding the fence sitters who really deserve to see from both the point of view of the outliers as well as conventional wisdom so that they can make up their mind as to how they wish to live their lives as also so very clearly portrayed in "Brave New World". 2. Should politics have any thing to do with this? One would think not. As long as there are humans there will always be the right and the left and the center... and the scales of the balance will probably keep oscillating back and forth as generations go by. 3. Where does the genesis of hatred lie? Could it possibly be fear or lack of understanding of another viewpoint? 4. How would one define unfair justice? Well, when one fails to implicate someone on the grounds that they were tried and then searches deeper to find other issues on which one can be in a manner of speaking - be punished. 5. Someone once said of someone that he or she is crazy dreaming his life away. He kept watching the wheels go round and round! If only they would understand the words of wisdom in letting it be! 6. Can't all religions coexist in harmony? Wouldn't the world be a better place to live in? 7. A smart psychiatrist is one who treats people who need their help - those who may be at a risk of either hurting themselves or others. A not so smart psychiatrist is one who seeks to expand the already massive and ever expanding DSM-IV! 8. Why do people like to stare into other peoples lives? Isn't it a form of voyeurism? What if they stared into their own lives a little deeper. They would certainly become better persons, wouldn't they? 9. Someone once said something to the effect that they sometimes don't have control over their thoughts but nevertheless remain fully responsible for their actions in terms of affecting others or even themselves in the long run. There is no other way a civilized society can exist and survive. 10. There was someone who said something like he or she need not be old to be wise. 11. Someone one believed that immoral actions are those that hurt others either physically or emotionally.
