REVIEW OF MARKET LEADER UPPER INTERMEDIATE 3RD EDITION COURSE

- Antal Szerb was born in Hungary in 1901 and his novel entitled the Traveler is one of the most unique pieces of literature that i have ever read. This book was written in 1937 and the topics that it deals with were very taboo at the time. In his novel Antal Szerb thoroughly investigates the subject of androgeny and the femme fatale. It is clear in this novel that Antal Szerb was writing from personal experiences a point that is reinforced by the superbly done afterword by Peter Hargitai. I really enjoyed the fact that the afterword explained alot of things that may have gone unnoticed on a first read. It truly explains Antal's work the way he may have wanted it. The novel is about a man named Mihaly who is separated from his wife on their honeymoon and his journey to fix the missing links between his childhood and his adult life. On this journey he learns alot about himself as he travels throughout Europe in search of his childhood love Eva and the reason for his friend Tamas' suicide. The Traveler to me is a masterful piece of literature that has one of the most enthralling story lines ever. It is truly a must read if one is interested in Hungarian literature or a good novel in general.

- The good stuff was spelling some things out to explain to people what Information Architecture is. Explaining which professions bring different dishes to the information table. The bad parts.

1. Interesting Reading in some places, boring in others. A better book to pick out what you need, rather than read cover to cover. 2. As a degreed librarian, I must take issue with their treatment of librarians. The authors feel anyone can do what we do. NOT SO! Useful to have at your side if you are a starting Information Architect. Authors could have been a touch more sensitive.
