REVIEW OF DATA STRUCTURES AND ALGORITHM ANALYSIS SOLUTION

- Kit's grandpa died and she had to leave her rich home and sail to America. She hoped to find her Uncle there. What she finds is that her uncle is poor and has a temper. At first she just wants to go back home. Her cousins treat her good. One day, Kit was helping her cousin in a field, when she spotted an old, little house. She saw an old lady working there. She asked her cousin about it. Her cousin said, "She is the witch of Blackbird pond." Kit was scared. When things got worse, Kit finally broke. She ran and ran and ran. Her feet carried her to the big field. She through herself on the ground and sobbed herself to sleep. When she woke up, the witch was standing there and watching her. The witch said, "Thee must be hungry. Come with Thee." Kit was not afraid at all of this sweet old lady. She took her into her house and gave her some food and drink. Kit felt wonderful after that. She thought to herself, "Why would anyone say that she is a witch?" They became good friends. Kit heard a mob one night. She crept out of the house and eave-dropped them. She found out that they were going to go get the "witch" and throw her in jail. Kit fled to the field and told her to grab her things. They ran into the woods and hid. The mob burned down the Hannah's (the "witch") house. The mob looked in the woods for the "witch." Will the mob find the Hannah? This story takes place in America when it was first being colonized. Everyone had limited supplies, and sickness was everywhere. Doctors always bleed people when they got sick! I really enjoyed this book. I felt that I had to live with Kit's uncle and had befriended Hannah. Thanks for writing this great book Elizabeth George Speare.
