REVIEW OF CLINICAL PROCEDURES IN PRIMARY EYE CARE EXPERT CONSULT ONLINE AND PRINT 4E EXPERT CONSULT TITLE ONLINE PRINT

- I had heard from many people whose opinions I respected that this was a great book. I had high expectations and many of them, though not all, were met. Its use of magical realism is engaging as the reader follows the lives, loves and tragedies of the Buendia family over what seems to be the entire course of human history. The book covered a tremendous emotional range as well: funny, sweet, tragic, romantic, sexy, stupid, mundane, brilliant and more. The details of such extremes lent the story truth in spite of its mystical elements. What disappointed me was the lack of emotional connection to any of the characters. Their experiences, though exaggerated, were universal. Yet the characters never quite felt real in spite of being complex and dynamic. I recognize that it is a richly textured and well-written work, yet I was not moved to love it, and in that I found disappointment.

- These 100 years in Macondo are some how more magically real than real history, and as mythical as the Bible. With 5 Arcadio's, and 22 Aurelianos, there is so much "family history" that the names become confusing ... but this helps create the feeling of dynasty, of repetition, and the inseparability of past, present and future. ... "The first of line is tied to a tree and the last is being eaten by ants". Colonel Aureliano Buendias endless melting and creating his gold fishes also highlights this cycle and the interplay of memory and forgetting. Full of sensuous smells as Melquiades' laboratory, tastes as Rebecca's mud, and delightful colors as Mauricio's yellow butterflies the book can be intoxicating. The interplay of reality, fantasy, and magic made for a remarkable read!
