REVIEW OF DANGEROUS ANGELS FIVE WEETZIE BAT BOOKS

- The Giver", a book review by Johannes and Vitali, two German pupils in the 10th grade After we read the book in the English class at our school we'd like to give you a book review with our opinion about this book and we hope that this might help you. Jonas lives in a community where you are always observed and where you have to do everything you are told. At first he is happy in his community. He has friends and has a usual life as a citizen in his family unit. He lives together with his sister Lily his father and his mother. In the community there are different ceremonies for every age. After the Ceremony of twelve Jonas is declared to be the new Receiver of Memory and starts his training with getting memories of many eras before he lived. He gets memories of war, elephant hunts, snow and riding a sled, sunshine and such things. But very important is that he learns to see colours. That's important because no one of the citizens can see colours. In this world they achieved "sameness". They got neither weather nor any differences between them. When Jonas begins to discover the dark side of the community he is in fear of it. He begins to see, that nothing is as perfect as it seems. He discovers that in this community many people are murdered every day when they break a rule or when they got to old. When the foster child Gabriel of his family unit shall be killed he decides to escape with him to "Elsewhere", a different and better world. The opinion of Johannes: At first I found this book boring but when we read further parts of the book it got more and more interesting then I began to read this book with more interest and I began to read it very fast. In the end I found that book interesting and informative but I think that it is not really good written. The opinion of Vitali: I found it interesting to read about a book which deals with a different community and with other rules then we have. But I can't imagine that no one apart from the Receiver can see colours or hear music. First I found the book a little bit confusing, but then it was clearer. The book is well written but for a German pupil it is a little bit difficult to understand all the vocabulary. Also I think that the ending is felicitous, because it makes you think further, what could happen.

- The Giver by Lois Lowry deals with a community, which seems to be the perfect world, but it's a place without any feelings!!!! I recommend the book to all people!! The background is very serious and important, because many people in our world want to reach an Utopia! (no wars, no hunger, no diseases..) but have you ever thought about the situation then?? Someday you'll reach the point where no love is existing any more. The consequences of such an Utopia would be a birth control and perhaps a "dead control", because there would be too many (sounds stupid!) people on earth!! I found the book very interesting and worth reading it!! But I'd never, never, never want to live in such a world... Imagine---they have no feelings. No love, no happiness, no real friendship, no own choice... NO OWN LIFE!! They are just existing, not really living, because everything in their life is "planned for them". What's the sense of their life?? Is there really a sense? WHY do they live?? Everything is controlled: Love, climate, landscape, job, children... everything!!! The more I read the book, the more I liked it. I'm German, but at the end it was so easy to read as a German book. I hope that our world will never become such a place to live!! Beware the feelings!!! "For all the children, to whom we entrust the future!" (Lois Lowry) Read it!!!!!! I recommend the book for everyone, yo guys it's really worth reading it!
