REVIEW OF BOOK OF MORMON STUDY JOURNAL

- This book did everything a good read should do. It made me laugh, made me cry, made me feel all the emotions and struggles of a young girl growing and facing life with its joys and disappointments. I loved her down-home common sense and yet her faith in others. I have read my copy three times, and I never have re-read books before. BUY IT. You wont be sorry.
- Great book. Even if you don't accept Creationism, you can not help but to perceive evolution in a new light. Evolution is a theory not a science. Since I began teaching, the Theory of Evolution has changed so much. What was taught as fact 10 yrs ago, has since been proven incorrect. The theory changes too much for a science. Until two years ago, Astronomers believed that the oldest star in the universe was older than the universe itself. This was not at all logical, but they accepted it and continued their faith in their dating methods. A fellow from South Africa was able to prove that their measurement methods were incorrect. Thus the Universe is older than the oldest star. Now let us consider the possibility that the dating methods for determining the age of the earth and fossils are also incorrect. Evolution has become a religion for those wanting to disprove the existence of God. If we teach our children that we accidentally evolved from pond scum, why should they feel special about themselves? I can not accept that we were an accident. Logic would dispute that two humanoids spontaneously evolved in the same area that were biologically compatible enough to produce offspring. In addition, If all creatures are evolving to a higher state, why do we see so much extinction? I propose a lesson in genetics would explain that mutations provide a loss of genetic information not an addition. As a species becomes more specialized, they lose information that is never regained. Thus they are not able to adapt to changes in their environment because the genetic pool that provides their variations has become too shallow.
