REVIEW OF CHAPTER 6 POPULATION AND COMMUNITY ECOLOGY ANSWERS

• Morris reminds me of people I've met travelling; rootless, wanting too much, searching everywhere for adventure. This book is about her trip to Mexico, alone, where she writes, thinks, loves, and makes various friends, whom she knows she will leave. In this book there's the transient community of the ageless twenty-something, who turns thirty and is still searching for everything she doesn't have, the lessons that come from simple living, and no

resolution

- Who ever had this idea to praise our black men, should get a billion dollars and then some. With so much negativity in the media about AA males, this book is a definate home run for the trillion brothas who are good men as well as good lovers. I really enjoyed this book and can relate to most if not all of the women (sistahs)on loving a black man. Its not always easy, but it is definatey worth it. More power to my AA Brothas! ;-)| love yall
