Exercise, a healthy diet, stress management, sound sleep: Most practitioners would agree that living well can mitigate the impact of mental disorders. Yet many are unprepared to address lifestyle factors in their care of patients. Lifestyle Psychiatry seeks to instill confidence by collating and analyzing the impressive emerging body of evidence that supports the efficacy of healthy lifestyle practices -- both as the primary intervention and in conjunction with traditional treatments such as psychopharmacology or psychotherapy -- in preventing and managing psychiatric disorders. This volume examines the impact of lifestyle interventions -- from exercise, yoga, and tai chi to mindfulness and meditation, diet and nutrition, and sleep management -- on psychiatric disorders, including depression, anxiety, posttraumatic stress disorder, schizophrenia, and addiction. Readers can readily find data to support the use of specific lifestyle interventions for a patient presenting with a specific disorder. Detailed descriptions of the mechanisms of each lifestyle intervention also prepare practitioners to educate their patients on the specific neurobiological and psychological effects of these interventions to support their recovery. With chapters that focus on developing a robust therapeutic alliance and inspiring patients to assume responsibility for their own well-being, this guide provides a framework for lasting, sustainable lifestyle changes. Additionally, the book discusses the impact of the provider's lifestyle on clinical behavior and the implications of lifestyle medicine and psychiatry for health care systems and population health, offering a broader examination of the important role this new field can play in leading a sophisticated, holistic approach to optimizing wellness.

REVIEW OF POCKET MEDICINE THE MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL

HANDBOOK OF INTERNAL 5TH EDITION

- I love keeping a gratitude journal. I'm on my eleventh one and I like using this format, The Simple Abundance Journal of Gratitude, because it can be used during any year. Each night before I go to bed I write about good things and important things that have happened to me that day. Doing this make me reflect on my day, my relationships, accomplishments and all the wonders around me. I end my days happy, content and grateful for the day. This has given me positive energy to continue living each day the best I can. It's a great habit. It's changed my life and how I look at everything.

- This is a wonderful gift for a loved one or for yourself. I have used two of these so far and will continue to buy one every year. Graduated is the key to a happy and abundant life. :)
