REVIEW OF DURJOY DATTA OH YES I AM SINGLE

- This will always be a favorite book of mine, from the time I first read it as a young girl. I actually bought it as a gift for my daughter-in-law. She had once told me that it was a book she had always meant to read, and since mine is time worn and literally falling apart, I was anxious to get it for her. The seller of this book was wonderful. I received it well ahead of the expected date, in perfect condition, so I was able to give it as a little extra gift for Veronica's birthday!

- Herb and Jan Conn were amateur climbers in the 1930s who fell in love with the Black Hills of South Dakota. At a friend's suggestion, the Conns began moonlighting as spelunkers in winter. When they first visited Jewel Cave, it was a tiny cavern with an intriguing unexplored passage. Luckily for the Conns, that passage led to a mile of unexplored cave passages, then two miles... and exploring Jewel Cave became the Conns' life's work. They describe the exciting exploration (which is still ongoing, with more than 100 miles of passages mapped) with just the right balance of action/adventure, science, and humor. This book is a pioneer of the outdoor/geography genre and is readable, fun and fascinating.-Review by David Bezanson
