REVIEW OF APICS CSCP STUDY MATERIAL INDICAORE

- Years ago I was a Scoutmaster for 13 years. I would have loved to have known this story back then to tell around the campfire. - - - Three brothers live in a mythical valley where they have a vista of a gorgeous waterfall pouring out of the mountains. The afternoon turns the waterfall to a golden blaze, hence the name Golden River. The two older brothers are very mean and bully the youngest of them and make him do the chores. They are angered to find that one night while they are gone the younger brother gives shelter to a stranger. Arriving back home they throw him out in spite of his warning that he is the West Wind and will return just one time. His return is in the form of a gale force wind that destroys their house. Not only that but the West Wind stops the rainfall into the valley; the farm dries up; the three brothers move to the city. They use some gold that they have to become goldsmiths but spend the profits instead of using some to buy more gold for smithing. The younger brother treasures a gold mug with a face imprinted on it. They tear it away from him and toss it into the kettle to be melted down. Then they leave. The youngest brother hears a voice from the kettle and realizes that it comes from the face that was on the mug. He is asking to be fished out. When the brother does this, the gold face becomes a head and body and sprouts arms and legs and struts about as a dwarf. This is the King of the Golden River. As a reward for the boy's kindnesses he tells the boy the secret of how to turn the river to gold to make himself rich.- - That's all I will divulge. - - There is a moral, of course. This tale is short and delightful; written as present for the young girl who later becomes his wife.

- Camus has made a real classic with his book The stranger. Camus provides readers with a glimpse into the life of a young Frenchman named Mersault. The first line of the book is one of the most famous lines in literature. the line shows Mersault's affection for his mother. The telegram Mersault recieves does not tell when his mother died, only the fact that she did die. In the Book Mersault has a girlfriend by the name of Marie. Marie is somewhat a bandage for Mersault after his mother dies. althought Mersault's mothers death does not affect him totally, he still needs help coping with it. throughout the whole book Mersault does not take stands on his views towards different events in the book. i think Camus was trying to tell where neutrality can get you. i enjoyed this book very much, and im a teenager by the age of 16. you should pick this book up, its short, sweet, and has soo much meaning to it, its astounding.
