REVIEW OF SWIM TO RECOVERY CANINE HYDROTHERAPY HEALING GENTLE DOG CARE SERIES

- I had heard of this book, and 'on a lark' bought it. Reading this was a real educational event. EVERY AMERICAN should read this. Mrs. Huffington, gives names of CEO's that have been convicted, ones investigated, outlines what they did to amass their fortunes. Mrs. Huffington (who is a Rhodes Scholar), explains corrupt methods, used by many of these CEO's, in a such plain terms, anyone should be able to understand. How did you lose your 401K, your pension, why did your job go overseas? Let me quote from the excellent book: [quote] "Since the beginning of the new century [2000], over 570 public companies--including most famously Enron, Global Crossing, Adelphia, WorldCom and Kmart--have declared bankruptcy." "Nearly $9 trillion in market value has been lost on Wall Street. But while the average American has suffered staggering losses in 401(k) and pension value, and many have struggled to stay afloat, the average CEO has added millions to his personal wealth. In corporate America, apparently, nothing succeeds like utter failure." "At Enron, after tens of billions of dollars vanished--including over $1 billion in employees' pension funds---and over 4,000 employees had been laid off, Enron's "Kenny Boy" Lay strolled out the door with over $100 million." "In his last three years at Tyco, Dennis Kozolowski received $466.7 million in salary, bonuses, and perks. He did such a bang-up job that since the summer of 2001, Tyco has closed or consolidated 300 plants and laid off 11,000 workers." "When Bernie Ebbers resigned from WorldCom--claiming he didn't understand that WorldCom was defrauding investors of $7 billion--and received over $44 million in pay; His severance package promised him $1.5 million a year for the rest of his life, and the use of the WorldCom jet for 30 hours a year. And medical benefits. And life insurance. And a desktop computer." Source-"Pigs At The Trough"-Arianna Huffington; copyright-2003; ISBN 1-4000-4771-4; -page-38-9 Do you wonder why the price of prescription drugs remain high? [quote] "The pharmaceutical industry spent a whopping $177 million on lobbying in just the last two years. And of their 623 registered lobbyists, more than half are former members of Congress or former government employees. Which is nice, because if you're a young politician selling off your vote and your integrity, it's easier if there's a seasoned veteran involved who was once in your shoes." "Secretary Donald Rumsfeld was formerly CEO of drug giant G.D. Searle, and White House Budget Director Mitch Daniels was a senior vice president at Eli Lilly." Source-"Pigs At The Trough"-Arianna Huffington; copyright-2003; ISBN 1-4000-4771-4; Page-139 Everyone should read this book.

- This an absolutely wonderful book. The author is my niece and I have spent many visits with Nataniel who is a remarkable and well adjusted child. I am the " Aunt E.J. " in this book and am now in my 70's so I have had a long time to deal with my "handicap". This book brings a lot of closure and insight into many parts of my life. I would recommend this exquisite book to all ages.
