REVIEW OF DIABLO III THE ORDER THE DIABLO SERIES

- After buying BAE 2001, I bought this edition. While BAE 2001 is quite good, this edition has some excellently written, memorable, and just plain hot stories. From S&M; by Gabrielle Glancy, to the longing described in Somewhere I Have Never Travelled by Claire Tristam, to examining traditional "Indian matchmaking" in Fish Curry Rice by Ginu Kamani, the SM-laced "The Manicure" by Nell Canberry and to a lesser extent of "the women getting the upper hand" in Essence of Rose, Big Hungry Woman, and The Fishing Show, this is an anthology that is never dull and at times quite erotic. Even in stories that weren't necessarily my "cup of tea", I found myself riveted to them. Carol Queen's excerpt story (From the Leather Daddy and the Femme) is also especially hot and nasty. This collection of stories inspired me to start writing erotica again and who knows? Maybe one of my stories will one day wind up in a future edition of Best American Erotica.

- I have enjoyed all of Francine Craft's books because each one has its own unusual plot. If you like a book where you can unsolve a murder, then this is the one. Lance Carrington although acquitted of his wife's murder, still is very uncomfortable with this cloud of suspicion hanging over him. Fairen Wilder, paternal twin sister of Lance's wife accepts the challenge to assist Lance as he tries to clear his name. If you enjoy playing detective and putting all the clues together to come up with "who-did-it" then this is a book to read. The author has you putting clues together all the way to the end. This book may be contemporary romance but it has the seasoning of murder, secrets, lies, cover-ups and lots of intimate romantic scenes. I truly can say I enjoyed this one and encourage others who may not have taken the leap of faith on Francine Craft's books and give this one a read, I don't feel you'll be disappointed. If you like the books that have murder type mysteries or solving kidnapping matters check out these other two published books by Francine Craft: Lyrics of Love (a slow read but its good) and Still In Love. Also, another one about long lost love relationships that takes place in Alaska..read Francine Craft's "Devoted".
