“Lobster is served three ways in this fascinating book: by fisherman, scientist and the crustaceans themselves. . . . Corson, who worked aboard commercial lobster boats for two years, weaves together these three worlds. The human worlds are surely interesting; but they can’t top the lobster life on the ocean floor.” — Washington Post In this intimate portrait of an island lobstering community and an eccentric band of renegade biologists, journalist Trevor Corson escorts the reader onto the slippery decks of fishing boats, through danger-filled scuba dives, and deep into the churning currents of the Gulf of Maine to learn about the secret undersea lives of lobsters. This P.S. edition features an extra 16 pages of insights into the book, including author interviews, recommended reading, and more.

The New Divers Magazine Fodor's Travel

Routledge Handbook of the Tourist Experience offers a comprehensive synthesis of contemporary research on the tourist experience. It draws together multidisciplinary perspectives from leading tourism scholars to explore emergent tourist behaviours and motivations. This handbook provides up-to-date, critical discussions of established and emergent themes and issues related to the tourist experience from a primarily socio-cultural perspective. It opens with a detailed introduction which lays down the framework used to examine the dynamic parameters of the tourist experience. Organised into five thematic sections, chapters seek to build and enhance knowledge and understanding of the significance and meaning of diverse elements of the tourist experience. Section 1 conceptualises and understands the tourist experience through an exploration of conventional themes such as tourism as authentic and spiritual experience, as well as emerging themes such as tourism as an embodied experience. Section 2 investigates the new, developing tourist demands and motivations, and a growing interest in the travel career. Section 3 considers the significance, motives, practices and experiences of different types of tourists and their roles such as the tourist as photographer. Section 4 discusses the relevance of 'place' to the tourist experience by exploring the relationship between tourism and place. The last section, Section 5, scrutinises the role of the tourist in creating their experiences through themes such as 'transformations in the tourist role' from passive receiver of experiences to co-creator of experiences, and 'external mediators in creating tourist experiences'. This handbook is the first to fill a notable gap in the tourism literature and collate within a single volume critical insights into the diverse elements of the tourist experience today. It will be of key interest to academics and students across the fields of tourism, hospitality management, geography, marketing and consumer behaviour.

REVIEW OF PADI ENRICHED AIR DIVER

KNOWLEDGE REVIEW ANSWERS

- I identified with the main character in this book so much. Her awkwardness and her insecurities felt so familiar. I've been out of high school for almost 15 years but so many of my high school memories came flooding back - good and bad. It also made me realize that I needed to reconnect with some of my high school friends and make amends. After finishing this book, I've been recommending it to everyone. A woman that I work with said, "I could have been friends with Lee." I completely feel the same way. I also recommended it to another co-worker's daughter and she loved it, so now she's coming to me for book recommendations. Curtis Sittenfeld really blew me away with her first novel, so much so that I immediately started searching for information on her second novel. I was so happy to find that "The Man of My Dreams" had been published three weeks prior and I immediately checked it out from the library. It's equally as good. If you like coming-of-age stories, "Prep" is a great one. When you finish it give yourself some time before you start "The Man of My Dreams" because you may be expecting it to be "Prep" which it's not, it is its own book and should be treated as such.

- Painful, cringy, funny and sad. Felt very honest. I am required to write 12 more words, so this is twelve.
