REVIEW OF BREADWINNER ANSWER KEY

- this book is set in a futuristic land, where everyone is the same. you are assigned jobs, spouses, and children; a boy and a girl.this book illustrates the necessity of choices.
- Have you ever thought about what our world will be like in the future? If you said yes then The Giver by Lois Lowery is a great book for you. The main character, Jonas lives in a Utopia and they assign jobs to all the people. He has been given the job of Receiver of Memories, so he gets all the memories from the past. This makes him very unhappy and even the old Giver can not help him cope. This leads Jonas to have to make a very difficult decision between his friends and family and what he is destined to do. This is a science fiction novel that is written in Jonas's view. This book is very slow moving. I did not like this about this book. I also didn't like how the ending left you hanging, so you would have to read the second book of the series, Gathering Blue. The writer's style is very boring and reuses the same words many times over. Although I am not ecstatic about the book, it really does make you think abbot the future and the some of the things that could be in store for us then!
