REVIEW OF BY MICHAEL R KINNEY CECILY A RAIBORN COST ACCOUNTING FOUNDATIONS AND EVOLUTIONS 7TH EDITION SEVENTH

7TH EDITION

- Lois Lowery- I thought- had a very good writing ability and could make you see yourself like you where right in the character's shoes. Like many other books that she's written, the story tells itself well- but there's just a bit of a problem. The story itself (just in general) is really WEIRD! First of all the boy in the story where it takes place lives in this whole metropolis of people who are consistantly apologizing an speaking very good english, and are completly and totally brain-washed by the "rules." But also in an intresting sort of again weird way the whole entire story kind of wraps itself around the main focus of the story leaving you or the reader dazed and confused but yet at the same time, charmed and delighted.

- The Giver, by Lois Lowry, was an excellent book. It has medals such as the Newberry Medal and A.L.A. best book. Lowry has written more extraordinary books like The Anastasia series, The Sam series and Number The Stars. The Giver is a science fiction book. Lowry is known through out the world for her wonderful books.The Giver is about a boy named Jonas. Jonas lives in a town where everyone can't see any colors and no one has memories except the Giver. When Jonas became twelve he was picked to be the next giver. If you become the Giver, you are in luck because it is the best job you can get it is also the most honored and biggest job in the city. Some of the memories that Jonas receives are harsh to him. For example a memory of going down a hill on a sled and breaking your leg with a burning hatchet wiping into your leg. But for becoming the receiver he has to learn things he doesn't want to know. After about a year the Giver and Jonas decide that something has to change about the town. So the two of them start to form a plan. The plan involves something he doesn't want to do!The Giver was a very descriptive book. When I was reading it I could tell what every thing looked like or tasted like. It kind of seemed like watching a movie. Also when any body was talking it felt like I was that person. Lowry was so descriptive that I could see an old scar on a persons face. When Jonas was hungry I could feel my stomach ach with hunger.In The Giver the town that Jonas lives in is very strange. In the town every one is the same. Also everyone can't see colors accept The Giver and Jonas. Even though every one is the same there can't be doubles of any one or names. So they have to kill old and identical twins. The town is also very cashes. They have important people called elders. The elders make every decision like giving people jobs or giving boy's wife's.The Giver was one of the best books I have ever read. The action the suspense it was all good. I recommend this book to people 12 and older because the lexile is 760 so it might me difficult for kids under 12. There are also some sad and gruesome parts. There are also some inappropriate parts. Personally I could read it again and enjoy it.
