Fans of Maggie Stiefvater and Colleen Houck will love this epic tale of forbidden romance and nail-biting action from New York Times bestselling author Sophie Jordan. In the climactic finale to the steamy Firelight trilogy, Jacinda must fight to save her life, her love, and all of her kind. If Jacinda were to follow the wishes of her community, she'd happily settle down with Cassian, the prince of her pride. But she just can't. She's in love with Will, a human boy who comes from a family of hunters. Their relationship breaks the most sacred rule and endangers everyone she cares about. Now Jacinda, Will, and Cassian fight back against the hunters and their shadowy allies who would destroy them all.

Awakening in a bleak landscape, Cass Dollar vaguely recalls enduring something terrible. Having no idea how many days—or weeks—have passed, she slowly realizes the horrifying truth: her daughter, Ruthie, has vanished. And with her, nearly all of civilization. Instead of winding through the once-lush hills, the roads today see only cannibalistic Beaters—people turned hungry for human flesh by a government experiment gone wrong. In a broken, barren California, Cass will undergo a harrowing quest to get Ruthie back. Few people trust an outsider—much less one who bears the telltale scars of a Beater attack—but she finds safety with an enigmatic outlaw, Smoke. And she'll need him more than ever when his ragged band of survivors learn that she and Ruthie have become the most feared, and desired, weapons in a brave new world....

Along the train lines north of New York City, twelve-year-old neighbors Myla and Peter search for the link between Myla's necklace and the disappearance of Peter's brother, Randall. Thrown into a world of parkour, graffiti, and diamond-smuggling, Myla and Peter encounter a band of thugs who are after the same thing as Randall. Can Myla and Peter find Randall before it's too late, and their shared family secrets threaten to destroy them all? Drawing on urban art forms and local history, Finding Mighty is a mystery that explores the nature of art and the unbreakable bonds of family.

Follow two abolitionists who fought one of the most shockingly persistent evils of the world: human trafficking and sexual exploitation of slaves. Told in alternating chapters from perspectives spanning more than a century apart, read the riveting 19th century first-hand account of Harriet Jacobs and the modern-day eyewitness account of Timothy Ballard. Harriet Jacobs was an African-American, born into slavery in North Carolina in 1813. She thwarted the sexual advances of her master for years until she escaped and hid in the attic crawl space of her grandmother's house for seven years before escaping north to freedom. She published an autobiography of her life, Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl, which was one of the first open discussions about sexual abuse endured by slave women. She was an active abolitionist, associated with Frederick Douglass, and, during the Civil War, used her celebrity to raise money for black refugees. After the war, she worked to improve the conditions of newly-freed slaves. As a former Special Agent for the Department of Homeland Security who has seen the horrors and carnage of war, Timothy Ballard founded a modern-day "underground railroad" which has rescued hundreds of children from being fully enslaved, abused, or trafficked in third-world countries. His story includes the rescue and his eventual adoption of two young siblings--Mia and Marky, who were born in Haiti. Section 2 features the lives of five abolitionists, a mix of heroes from past to present, who call us to action and teach us life lessons based on their own experiences: Harriet Tubman--The "Conductor"; Abraham Lincoln--the "Great Emancipator"; Little Mia--the sister who saved her little brother; Guesno Mardy--the Haitian father who lost his son to slave traders; and Harriet Jacobs--a teacher for us all.

Automated vehicles are set to transform the world. Automated driving vehicles are here already and undergoing serious testing in several countries around the world. This book explains the technologies in language that is easy to understand and accessible to all readers. It covers the subject from several angles but in particular shows the links to existing ADAS technologies already in use in all modern vehicles. There is a lot of hype in the media at the moment about autonomous or driverless cars, and while some manufacturers expect to have vehicles available from 2020, they will not soon take over and it will be some time before they are commonplace. However, it is very important to be ready for the huge change of direction that automated driving will take. This is the first book of its type available and complements Tom Denton's other books.

REVIEW OF A6MF2 TRANSMISSION MANUAL

- First off, I was amused at two authors for the book - Francine Hornberger and Francine Homberger. A quick check verified my conclusion that the letters "rn" must have appeared like an "m" so we have two variations of the same name, which is Hornberger in other booksellers' Web sites. This is not a review as I did not read it. I subscribe to Zooba and had selected this title, based on its description alone, as one of the books on my list, but Zooba e-mailed me to let me know the book was no longer available. I then went to Amazon's Web site to look into their price, but after reading these reviews I think I will not order it. That error in which of Diane's daughters survived was particularly bad. Thank you all for taking the time to write your reviews and warnings. One thing I checked on the internet was Elizabeth's last name and found Bathroy used in a number of sites, though more for the fictional character (such as in the movie Daughter of Darkness) based on the real person. One site mentioned the Brie family and included the name Lady Hera Bathroy, changling sister to Elizabeth, followed by Lady Elizabeth Bathroy Creed (my mother). I do own Dracula Was a Woman: In Search of the Blood Countess of Transylvania, by Raymond T. McNally, in whose blood-curdling book the name used is Elizabeth Bathory.

- Exploring the dark and hidden secrets of one's own past, righting a wrong, maybe finding a way to avert a past tragedy; these are things that most of us have fantasized about at one time or another. Such is the setup scenario for "She", the riveting thriller by James J Caterino. Part erotic thriller, part science fiction noir, "She" is the story of JC Pezzini, a filmmaker who is haunted by a tragedy in his past, and by the mysterious woman who rescued him and brought him back from the brink of death. "She" reminded me of the new wave science fiction pulps of the 1960's, but it also has a very unique texture and feel. The book plays with perception and reality in a way that is reminiscent of avante garde films such as "Vanilla Sky," and "Mulholland Drive". I really enjoyed this book from start to finish.
