REVIEW OF REVUE TECHNIQUE OPEL CORSA D

- "My Dear Friend,I shall try to express to you the joy and release that I have experienced through your thoughtful gift of "100 Years of Solitude".It has more firmly cemented my belief that the right things find their way to you at the right time.As I read the last words on page 81 of this beautiful book, I broke into a fit of joyous laughter and saddest tears such as I have never experienced in my life! As if all of the pain and joys of living up to this moment had found release.I can find no proper words to describe what I feel, except to say that I feel strangely at peace; with a sense of hope and love for this life that is ours. No matter that all that we work and strive for in life may end in being "tied to a chestnut tree with a shelter of palm fronds".I am reminded that it is the very struggle that makes life worth living and beautiful. I am left with a sense of indefinable courage to go on. I love this life! What a wonderful adventure it is, and how lucky I am to have all that I do. When it comes down to what is important, I shall die happy knowing that my life is filled, and made worthwhile, by the gifts of love and friendship of many wonderful souls.Thank you for your gift my friend."These words were written spontaneously upon finishing the first part of the book. That was over 3 years ago. Although I have not yet reread it, the ghost of this fantastic work has never left me. I would have liked it to end differently, but the magical power was not in my control. Truly one of the most compelling and glorious works I have ever read.

- This book was beautifully translated, there was nothing that was lost. Every generation blends together so well that it's amazing. I know others find it boring at times, but I found that there isn't a moment of boredom while reading it. I loved this book. It was so very well-written, and the characters truly shine and come alive. I think everyone should read this classic!
