REVIEW OF ECONOMICS PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICES WORKBOOK

- As an Elvis Cole and Robert Crais fan, I waited with great anticipation to read the "The Last Detective". What a bitter disappointment! A predictable plot, I had the villain identified by Chapter 3 and knew immediately the Elvis/Luce relationship was history. Where was the wise-cracking, free-spirit, hilarious Elvis Cole? Looking forward to his return in the next book in the series.

- The name of the book I read is called Letters From Rifka, which is historical fiction. The main character of the book is Rifka who tries to escape from the Russian guards that are cruel to Jews. I rated this book as a 4 because it had a lot of things I can relate to. For example, in letters from Rifka her mom sees that Rifka becomes friends with Ilya and her mom's disappointed because Ilya is Russian and because the Russians are cruel to Jews. I can relate to that situation when my mom saw a friend of mine and she doesn't like her because of the way she acts. The two situations are different because Rifka's mother was commenting about how her daughter was friends with a Russian and my mother was making a decision on how my friends act. But the two situations are also similar because the two parents are worried about who are their children hanging out with. What I learned from this is when my I'm a parent I'll let my children be friends with anybody they want to as long as my children don't do bad things like the other children do.
