Bibliography and resources, great as study guides or research resource. - Trivia Questions and Discussion Starters, great for your book clubs! SAMPLE EXCERPT: "What was the inspiration behind the creation of this book?" Although many people have expressed how much Bared to You resembles Fifty Shades of Grey, Day said in interviews that her real inspiration for writing this book is her own novel, Seven Years to Sin. It is a historical novel also dealing with a couple recovering from difficult, abusive pasts. In Seven Years to Sin, the main characters were brought together by their histories. But Day wondered how it would be like if the past of two people very attracted to each other push them apart. What if their trauma inhibits them from connecting with the person they are in love with? Can an abuse survivor be able to have a functional and healthy romantic relationship with another abuse survivor? Day wanted to explore that. This premise, the desire to answer these questions at least in the context of a story, resulted in the plotline that will encompass the three books in the Crossfire series. - - - - Don't miss out! It's highly recommended. if you're a real literature junkie or a diehard fan of the novel (I am both) it's really a must read. Highly recommended. - ForTheQuinn (Austin, TX, US) Disclaimer: This work is not meant to replace, but to complement the original work. If you've loved the novel, then this is the book for you. It is educational in purpose, entertaining in nature, unauthorized and unofficial. It is a digestive work produced to stimulate the appetite and to encourage readers to appreciate the original work even more.

REVIEW OF ALMOST BOOK SHADES OF GREY

• Antal Szerb has shown his darkness and passion for death in The Traveler. In the first part of the book, the main character's childhood is introduced to the reader. It is filled with longing for a poetic death, which they would act out in plays. Eventually this death infatuation grew into a reality as his good friend Tamas would soon try to kill himself. Mihaly followed his example with the help of a beautiful young woman Eva. After a disastrous honeymoon, Mihaly goes through the towns and alleys of Italy on his own! Then later on, he and his wife (Erzsi) are traveling on a train and they separate almost intentionally. After losing his wife he travels all around Europe finding different women, but desperately trying to find his childhood love/death interest; Eva. He meets up with one of his old friends Ervin who is now a monk who talks with him being true to yourself. He also speaks with Waldheim who was a friend in school with him who is now a famous anthropologist. Waldheim gives him good lectures and both gentlemen helped Mihaly mature. When he met up with Eva it was sad because she was going to be with him when he committed suicide as she did with her brother Tamas. Mihaly matures near the end of the novel. He said that he would rather live "like a rat among the ruins, but he must live. And while one lived, it is always possible for something to happen." He had finally accepted life. His journey had taken him from childhood to manhood. The novel had great cinematic possibilities

• The Traveler by Antal Szerb is a fascinating story. It consists of everything from passion, fantasy, love, and hope. The story begins when Mihaly and Erzsi are in their honeymoon, where they separate, and that's when Mihaly starts searching for his identity. He travels to many places throughout Italy in the journey of finding himself. The traveler is a great story that captivates you from the beginning to the end. When you start reading it, you don't want to stop because you want to know what will happen next. I recommended this book to everyone who loves to be in suspense of what will happen next!
