REVIEW OF PRINTREADING FOR WELDERS 4TH EDITION

- Letters from Rifka was about a young Russian girl who experiences hardships along her journey to America, and the letters that she writes to her cousin along the way. The author's literary language was very descriptive and breathtaking. I felt like I was watching an action moving and I kept wondering what was going to happen next. While reading the book, I imagined that I was setting right next to Rifka, and experiencing her struggles along side of her. I could not put it down this book down. I was so captivated by Rifka's courage and bravery and the obstacles that she encountered along the journey. Hesse's use of language was very captivating as well. I thought the letter format of the book made the story very personable, I could see the journey through Rifka's eyes. Overall I thought that this book was amazing and an excellent example of bravery of a young Russian girl during the early 1900's. Letters from Rifka is a must read.

- An interesting mix of family antedotes and winemaking information. Alligator Dreams is a must-read for all wine lovers. The Winemaking Timetable and Vineyard Timeline are outstanding. Kate May's photos combined with Richard Paul Hinkle's prose create a lasting impression of Anderson Valley, Mendocino Ridge and Greenwood Ridge Vineyards.
