REVIEW OF CORNERSTONES FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGE SUCCESS 2 EDITION

- When I was looking through the books at the High School Library, the librarian, Ms. Pimentel, asked me if I was looking for anything in particular. I replied that I was not and she said to me, "Every girl from the age of nine and up should read Jane Eyre." I asked her to show me where the book was. It looked terribly boring but I wasn't about to say, "I'm not interested." So I took it. That night, I read through half of it. I couldn't help it--I was not able to put it down! What would happen to Jane next? Questions would race through my head and so I would answer them myself by continuing to read. I finished it the next night. Ms. Pimentel was right. Every girl SHOULD read Jane Eyre.

- I read Jane Eyre when I was 15 years old. That was 58 years ago. Reading it now I realize what a wonderful book this is. The use of the English language is remarkable. The way the author describes a scene so expressive and emotionally dramatic. I am glad I have reread the book at an age where I can better appreciate how wonderful it is.
